

I don't believe the establish business relationship should be imposed. I still get unwanted phone calls from creditors and other types of solicitors. This would just create more disturbing phone calls. If it comes to that I won't have a phone!